The nimos Safeguarding Children solution enables a wide variety of nominated users across organisations to raise concerns regarding a child or young person's safety and wellbeing. nimos Safeguarding Children ensures that "trusted partners" can provide crucial soft intelligence, which can then be triaged by the appropriate professionals to enable the delivery of protection services.

Concerns are securely reported into the system via a bespoke mobile app, phone call or email

Soft intelligence data triaged and managed within central hub

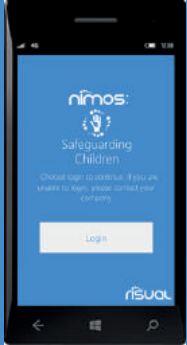

Individual reports can be forwarded on and linked to other concerns which combine to form rich data analysis on a local, regional or national level

A bespoke mobile application is available to “trusted partners” such as hoteliers, taxi drivers, door staff, fire service and transport workers in the local community who have been trained to spot warning signs of abuse or exploitation. The app can be used to submit a concern, along with a photograph and location quickly, discretely and securely. As soon as a concern is submitted, professionals are instantly notified.

The central hub of information allows users to hold all gathered soft intelligence in one place, meaning reports can be linked and mapped. Reports can be shared digitally or automatically generated for secure sharing. All data is held securely in the government approved Microsoft Cloud.

Through a tailored analytical tool, analysis dashboards and reporting are available to enable users to quickly spot trends, identify growing risks and deep dive into data. This gives insight into reporting activity, which is critical to operational and strategic decision making. The data held in the hub can be viewed on a local regional or national level.
